

Supplemental material to be listed under Nosferatu: A Symphony of Horror

1
Poster and still from Dracula's Death (Karoly Latjay 1921) the lost, first Stoker-inspired film predating Murnau's

Originally published as a serial in 1914, the tale was released in novel form the following year. Included in the book's second edition were 18 illustrations created by Hugo Steiner-Prag. Albin Grau, Nosferatu's Art, Costume, Production says this and other images had a huge influence on Nosferatu's concept storyboards.